Advices from Mexico and the neighboring colony of British Honduras, furnish us with intelligence of a very important character. From the Belize we learn in shape of official correspondence that the English government has repudiated the attempt made by Maximilian in 1884 to extend the boundary of his Empire into British Honduras, by means of a military mail from Zucata. The British Minister in Mexico declares that Mexico has no chaim whatever in any portion of the territory, and to this Semor Ramitz on behalf of the government acquisees. The doubtful policy of Napoleon towards Maximilian, and the reported determination of the United States government to uphold the Monroe doctrine, influenced the submissive tone of the Mexican reply considerably.
